Italians Start New Offensive, Storming Austrian Heights and Taking Prisoners

The veil of secrecy which has hung over the operations along the Italian front in Belgium and northern France since the latter part of the week still remains impenetrable so far as the news offerings of the British war office are concerned. Since Friday nothing except brief statements have reached the outside world from Field Marshal Haig's headquarters.

Sunday night's report chronicles the repulse of three German attacks in the Ypres sector, with losses to the attackers, including a number of prisoners and several machine guns. The German, the British statement says, after heavily bombarding their objectives, employed a thick smoke barrage to cloak their advance and also used flame throwing apparatus. The artillery activity continues between the Ypres-Comines canal and Zennebeke and in the Nieuport sector.

The Berlin official communication of Sunday characterizes the artillery duel along the Belgian coast and southward to the Ypres-Comines canal as "severe." Berlin also indicates that the British troops are keeping the enemy on the alert by sniping at various points from reconnoitering parties.

Meanwhile, the Italians have started another big offensive against the Austrians on the Isonzo front. On the Bainsizza plateau heights positions have been stormed and taken by General Cadorna's forces and 1,000 prisoners captured. By their new successes, the Italians have brought their line almost to the bridgehead of the Chiapovano river, near Podlaca and Maion, which also gives them possession of nearly 100 of the southwest portion of the plateau.

The Austrians, realizing the strategic value of the Italian gains, have delivered extremely heavy counter attacks, but to no purpose.

Bombard the Austrians. Daily the Italians continue their aerial bombardment of Austrian positions, with large quantities of explosives. The great fortress of Pola has again received a visitation and enemy depots at Berle, near Nubers, northeast of Trieste on the Gulf of Trieste, have been bombed.

Keeping up their almost nightly attacks by air during the last week, German air raiders again visited the London district and the Kent and Essex coasts Sunday night. Everywhere the raiders dropped bombs. It is reported that three of them were brought down.

A stronger hold has been obtained by the British on England through the capture of the Turks of the main Ottoman position in the region of Jeddah. The Ottoman general, Ahmed Bey, his staff and several thousand men were taken prisoner, and a large quantity of guns and ammunition was captured.

Boilermakers Will Return to Work Under Temporary Schedule

OUT TWO WEEKS
Government Shipping to Cost $150,000,000 Delayed

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—Complete resumption tomorrow of work on one-eighth of the entire ship-building contracts let by the United States government was forecast late today by officials of the Iron Trades Council, as the result of action today by the boilermakers' union, one of the organizations which had voted against acceptance of the temporary wage agreement, in agreeing to return to work.

The decision to return to work was reached after officials of the Iron Trades Council had addressed the boilermakers, appealing to their patriotism.

Work on $150,000,000 government ship-building contracts in San Francisco and the last two weeks by the strike, which was called September 17, after the expiration of the agreement under which the twenty-five unions affiliated with the council had been working. The men demanded a $8 a day minimum, a 50 per cent increase over the terms of the expired schedule. The employers' offer of a 10 per cent advance was rejected.

After a walkout, conference committees from both factions met with Federal mediators without accomplishing tangible results. President Wilson appointed Gavin McNair, San Francisco attorney, an special representative of the United States shipping board. Two days after his appointment, McNair, aided by a telegraphic appeal from President Wilson, succeeded in having both sides sign a temporary agreement in which both factions made substantial concessions.

This pact provided that the men should submit their demands for final arbitration to the Federal board of conciliation. Seventeen member unions of the council voted on the agreement and thirteen a majority of the entire membership. The employers accepted the temporary schedule. Plans were laid to resume work Thursday. Subsequently the boilermakers, under the orders of the Iron Trades Council, announced they would refuse to return to work. They had been one of the four unions which voted against acceptance of the temporary agreement. The ships remained closed Thursday.

AN ATLANTIC PORT, Sept. 30.—An attempt to wreck the machinery of a United States transport was discovered today when the engines of the ship, which has been undergoing alterations, were started for a trial, according to the commander, who caused the arrest of one of the ship's mechanics pending an investigation. A large wrench had been dropped into the steering gear of the vessel, according to the commander, but the power was shut off before great damage was done.

TEX CUNNINGHAM IS ACQUITTED BY JURY

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 30.—The jury trying Tex Cunningham, Taft oil well operator, for the murder of J. W. Ehrlich, proprietor of the Little Bear restaurant at Taft, on the night of April 14, 1917, brought in a verdict of acquittal at 8:45 o'clock last night. The case went to the jury at noon yesterday following the instructions of Superior Judge Milton T. Palmer. The case went to trial on September 10 with District Attorney J. R. Dorsey and Deputy D. P. Conway for the state and Edmunds & Johnson for the defendant. The defense claimed that Cunningham was not the aggressor but that Ehrlich had started to draw a gun when Cunningham refused to eat a hamburger steak which Cunningham declared was not fit for a dog. The wife of Ehrlich testified that she was the wife of Ehrlich but was contradicted by her real husband, whereupon she admitted that Hill was her right name.

PENSACOLA GETS WORD OUT; NO LIVES LOST THERE

Navy Yard Struck by Gulf Storm at Cost of $100,000

FISHERS FOUND
Losses Elsewhere on the Coast May Not Exceed Five

PENSACOLA, Fla., Sept. 30.—(by wireless to New Orleans.)—Pensacola and vicinity emerged from the battering last Friday of one of the most terrific tropical hurricanes that ever struck this section with no loss of life reported and with comparatively small property damage, considering the storm's violence.

For about eight hours on Friday last this city and nearby territory were at the mercy of the winds fury which blew for several minutes at the rate of 100 miles an hour.

An accurate estimate of the property loss was not made today, but considerable damage was done along the waterfront to wharves and piers and a number of vessels, mostly of small size, were blown ashore, though apparently not seriously damaged.

In the city the principal damage appeared to be to roofs, porches, plate glass windows and trailer frame structures and to telegraph and telephone wires.

Report Five Lost.
NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 30.—That the casualty list from the West Indian hurricane which last Friday swept the Gulf coastal sections of eastern Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and western Florida would not exceed five killed and might be lower was indicated tonight when wireless messages received from Pensacola there had been no loss of life in that vicinity.

Reports from Houma, La., stated that nine fishermen who Saturday were reported drowned in Sister Lake had been located. Saturday's report was that five persons had been killed at Crestview, Fla., could not be confirmed tonight.

Vessels Driven Ashore.
PENSACOLA, Sept. 30.—Pensacola, Fla., was seriously damaged by the Indian hurricane, but a number of merchant vessels were driven ashore, although the storm was of extreme violence. This information, the first to reach the outside world since Friday afternoon, when communication was cut off came to the navy department today from the Pensacola navy yard station. Damage to the navy yard was estimated at $10,000.

The department summarized its dispatches as follows:
"The navy department has received a report from the Pensacola navy yard which states that the estimate of the damage done by the hurricane is about $10,000. The electric railroad between the navy yard and the city of Pensacola was badly damaged. The damage to the seaplanes at the naval aeronautical training station was comparatively slight. The entire roof of the general stores building was completely blown off.

"Damage to the city of Warrington and Woolsey was slight outside the complete destruction of the Episcopal church and the practical demolition of the Y. M. C. A. building.

"Reports from the city of Pensacola state that the damage there was not great, although a number of merchant vessels were driven ashore."

GREAT DRIVE FOR $5,000,000.000 TO BEGIN THIS MORNING

Every District of Nation to Be Enlisted in Service of the Country's Financial Need

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The seal and Liberty loan campaign will open tomorrow. For four weeks the entire nation will be a recruiting ground for money with which to carry on the war. To obtain $5,000,000,000 in subscriptions, the minimum set by treasury officials for the issue, a gigantic machine of many parts stands ready to be set in motion with the opening of the campaign. Fifty per cent greater than the first Liberty loan, the present offering is the largest the American people ever have been called upon to absorb.

Five billion dollars and ten million subscribers—that is the goal which officials hope to reach during the next four weeks. The services of virtually every industry of the nation have been enlisted. Hundreds of thousands of individuals, firms and corporations will unite in giving all or a part of their time in carrying the work forward.

McAdoo On Tour.
Secretary McAdoo will open the campaign formally with a speech in Cleveland, Ohio, and then make a transcontinental tour which will take him into virtually every section of the country and keep him on the road till

October 26, the day before the subscription books close.
More than 25,000 banks working under the guidance of the twelve federal reserve banks which are national headquarters for the loan will be the treasury's frontlines. The five prices of the country—daily newspapers, weekly and monthly magazines, trade papers, foreign language publications and farm papers—which contribute so largely to the success of the first issue, will work for the success of the second. Chambers of commerce, boards of trade, manufacturers' associations and kindred organizations have pledged their active and unstinted efforts in the campaign. Patriotic societies by the score have been enlisted, as well as school children, church and school organizations, labor unions and fraternal societies.
Ray scouts, veterans of the last campaign, are planning a heavier drive for the second. Women's organizations from coast to coast have been marshaled under the leadership of a central women's Liberty loan committee, headed by Mrs. W. C. McAdoo, and tens of thousands of local committees of both men and women will aid in the chief towns and cities.

WORKS TO SECURE DISTRIBUTION OF U. S. POTATO CROP

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Government control over the potato industry was made complete tonight by an order of the War Relocation Administration limiting the profits of retail dealers and dealers throughout the country to a basic which is expected to bring about an immediate reduction in prices to the consumer.

The order, effective tomorrow, directs that the retailers shall fix their prices so as to limit their gross margins over cost to the average of such gross margins during the year 1915, plus a maximum of 30 per cent of the 1915 margin, provided there is no case shall show the average margin of the month of July, this year, be exceeded.

Local committees appointed by the federal fuel administrators in each state will see to it that the dealers comply with the order and the dealers themselves will be called upon to return sworn costs sheets showing the facts upon which they have based their prices.

1915 As Normal Year.
On the basis of 1915 as a normal year, because the coal shortage which resulted in continued rises in prices did not begin until 1916. The additional 30 per cent is allowed to cover the increase in the retailers' cost of doing business, which has increased substantially during the past two years. Prices already fixed by the government for coal at the mouth of the mine are near those charged in 1915, and with the jobbers' charges now limited to twenty-five cents a ton and the cost of transportation not materially increased, the consumer, in every community, should be able to get coal of any description at approximately the price he paid in 1915.

In the fuel order, the fuel administrator made the first step in his recently fixed prices of coal at the mine. One makes changes on anthracite, pea coal in the Pennsylvania field.

The order revises upward the mine prices in certain bituminous districts in which unusual conditions exist, making the cost of production greater than in the principal bituminous fields.

The increases allowed are to meet figures presented by mine owners in many cases, showing that the prices previously fixed would not allow a margin of profit above the cost of production. An additional twenty-five to forty cents a ton has been allowed in most cases including the Alabama field, where mine owners protested that the government's prices would drive them out of business.

GRANT DEMANDS OF LAKE SEAMEN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The strike of Great Lakes seamen set for Saturday was called off today by union leaders when the shipping board, serving as arbitrator in their dispute with the carriers, decided to grant wage increases demanded. Other demands were resolved, pending investigation by the board.

The dispute was brought to the shipping board when it appeared the carriers refused to deal with the seamen's union and decided to hope for an adjustment. Both sides agreed to abide by the board's decisions in all except the demand for union recognition, which the carriers still refuse to meet.

The seamen's minimum wage for seamen during October and November was $25 a month. The carriers had declined to pay more than $25. Seamen will receive $26 a month, $2.50 more than the carriers were willing to pay.

NOTED PAINTER DIES

AIRPLANES AGAIN RAID OVER LONDON

Two Taubes Said to Have Been Brought Down by Defenders

LONDON, Sept. 30.—The London district was again raided tonight by German aeroplanes. There is an unconfirmed report that two enemy machines were brought down.

While there was a bright moon, there also was a slight mist and the raiders were invisible to persons in the streets, but from the sound of the anti-aircraft guns in action the indications were that the raiders were moving over various quarters of the district.

Field Marshal Lord French reports that two groups of enemy machines, followed by others flying singly, crossed the Kent and Essex coasts between 8:40 and 9 o'clock tonight. They came toward London. About ten penetrated the outer defenses, but only four or five got through to London itself.

Bombs were dropped in Kent, Essex and London. No details of the damage or casualties have yet been received. The anti-aircraft firing ceased shortly after 9 o'clock. There are persistent, but unconfirmed, reports that two more German aeroplanes were brought down.

In expectation of nightly raids, the streets of London were much less crowded tonight than ordinarily. A majority of the people went early to their homes and theatres. In the churches were held at 5 o'clock instead of 7. Hence, when the warning was issued, the streets were quickly cleared. There were the usual scenes in the tubes and other shelters, but the police and special constables had less difficulty in handling the crowds than on previous occasions.

URGE EXPULSION OF PACIFIST GROUP

"Wilfully Obstructive and Seditious If Not Treasonable"

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—In an open letter to the governors of the United States, signed yesterday tonight, the executive committee of the American Defense Society urged that "steps should be taken at once to rid the United States Senate of those men who by their seditious utterances are giving aid and comfort to Germans."

The public remarks and the votes of Senators Stone, Reed, La Follette, Gore, Grannum, Vandenberg and Hawick, the letter stated, "clearly show their willful obstruction and seditious, if not indeed treasonable, tactics."

Each governor was asked to "arouse public sentiment throughout the state to the fathers, mothers, wives and sisters of men at the front," in his state.

Rioting also is reported in Turkestan, whether troops have been despatched.

REPORT SUCCESS AGAINST DIVERS

British Offensive Action Sinks Numerous Submarines

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Another series of thrilling reports of recent naval action against German submarines. Illustrative of the manner in which the U-boat menace is being met, was given last night by the admiralty. The figures are official and authenticated, but no dates are given.

The statement begins by reciting how a torpedo submarine sighted a battleship six hundred yards away and pursued it. When at a distance of fifty yards the periscope disappeared, the battleship passed over the submarine. The impact of the collision was felt and explosive charges were dropped. Immediately afterward a reported patch of oil on the surface and a mine sweeper found an obstruction on the bottom at this point.

A torpedo boat patrolling in the Atlantic found a steamer torpedoed and sinking, rescued the survivors and cleared about the locality more than an hour before locating the submarine. The torpedo boat dropped three submarine bombs. Oil and air bubbles reeking of gasoline came to the surface.

A British submarine sighted a German U-boat while both were on the surface. The British submarine dived and later picked up the enemy through the periscope. A torpedo, fired at 500 yards, caused a violent explosion in the German vessel. When the British arrived he found a patch of oil in which Germans were swimming.

A flotilla of mine sweepers was engaged in western channel waters when an explosion occurred between a pair of them, the mine sweeper was pulled in, two mines were found entangled, one on the ship's side and the other just under the surface.

The slightest roll of the ship striking the mine's whiskers would have been sufficient to set off an annihilating charge. A second officer with volunteers treads coolly cut the wires. The mines fell into the sea without exploding.

Gunnery Effective.
The training of mercantile marine officers in gunnery tactics is bearing fruit. A British merchantman was attacked by submarine gunfire from a distance of three miles. The shots were wild and she immediately replied. At the sixth and seventh rounds smoke and the burst from the forward part of the submarine which abandoned the chase.

Another ship sighted a periscope twenty yards off the beam. A minute later a periscope appeared on the surface on the other side. A shot was fired. Immediately followed by another and the submarine disappeared. The surface was soon covered with yellow oil.

WANT FIVE BILLIONS

The Liberty Loan campaign which starts today is an effort to raise five thousand million dollars, and if possible to raise it from ten million subscribers.

We are a hundred million people. Five thousand million dollars means fifty dollars apiece from every man, woman and child in America. We are about twenty million families. Ten million subscribers means one family in two, including the very poorest, and it means five hundred dollars apiece from these subscribers.

This means, evidently, that absolutely every person in America not in abject poverty will need to subscribe and, since the hundred-thousand and million-dollar subscriptions from the very few will scarcely bring up the average of the fifty dollar subscriptions, it means that the "ordinary average man" must subscribe fully the average amount, which is five hundred dollars.

These figures are suggested merely as a reminder that it is a tremendous big thing we are starting to do—the biggest thing in the history of finance. We are going in, on a big scale, into the biggest venture in existence, and our first step is to be prepared to pay for it in a tremendous way. So five thousand million dollars in this loan, added to two hundred millions of the previous loan and twenty-five hundred millions in new taxes, make up the tentative starting budget. It will be remarkable indeed if we do not spend ten thousand million dollars in the first year of the war. And that is a sum which staggers all imagination. We have wealth enough to pay it, but not mind enough to conceive it. All we can do is simply pay, with all our wealth, far beyond what we had ever dreamed possible—and then be prepared to repeat the deed, and bigger, as often and as long as may be necessary, not until we are tired of it (we are doubtless that, now), but until we win the war.

RAISE MORE HOGS

According to Herbert Hoover, who are now exporting more hog products than we produce. If this keeps on, it is of course only a question of time when we shall have no more pork or lard or bacon for ourselves, and it is certain that long before that time we shall have a very great domestic scarcity.

There are only two remedies—produce more or export less. And since it would be disloyal and dangerous to stop the export, there is no choice but to increase the product, or be prepared to go without ourselves.

Even at the present high prices of feed, hogs are very profitable, unless the profits are offset by losses from disease. And, with modern methods intelligently applied, that loss is reduced to a minimum. The University of California stands ready to teach any farmer who does not know already how to safeguard his swine against disease. All that is necessary is to be willing to learn, and to carry out directions with exactness. Certain farmers will not do this, because they have contempt for the practical knowledge of professors; or because, if they are told that it is important to do things in a certain way, they insist on doing them in a slightly different way of their own. Such farmers had better lose whatever they raise, but will lose more, and lose it quicker raising hogs. But there are enough others to raise a vast lot more hogs than we are now exporting.

The price of pork is going to stay high, no matter what happens. Whether the price is fixed by supply and demand, or whether the government fixes it arbitrarily, it is going to be high enough for a profit over cost of production, even including average risk. This means a large profit to the farmer whose care and intelligence eliminates much of that risk. And it means a patriotic service, besides, which is none the less desirable because it pays. For the rest of us, there is no present prospect of getting pork cheap. But we hope not to lose the prospect of getting it at all.

LA FOLLETTE

Senator La Follette doubtless will not, and probably should not, be expelled from the United States Senate. He has the right to say what he pleases in the Senate and the Senate, is hardly the tribunal to judge him for what he may say outside. But the demands for La Follette's expulsion are nevertheless useful, as expressions of public opinion. They demonstrate not merely general American loyalty, but the specific loyalty of exactly the sort of constituents whom La Follette thought he was representing. Except some congested city and manufacturing districts, Wisconsin and Minnesota are the most "foreign" populations of America. The vast majority of the people of both states are German and Scandinavian immigrants and their children. La Follette himself, curiously enough, is French, but he has spent his life among German-thinking people. He is their representative in the Senate, and whether because he thought it was their view, or because, through that environment, it had become his own, he has taken the German side in the European war. Now that the war has become world war, with America in it, the German side is completely repudiated.

himself. The importance of these protests is that they demonstrate that his constituents have not suffered from this disability of adjustment. The protests come from the mass of the people directly, or from official and politicians who are professionally responsive to public sentiment, and would not be likely to take a bold stand of leadership against the hostility of any large body of their constituents. They will probably not get Senator La Follette expelled, and it is just as well they do not. But it is very well indeed that they have demanded it.

RETAIL PROFITS

A government control of coal prices became complete last night by an order fixing retail profits. Prices at the mine and rates of transportation had already been fixed, so that this final link now completes the chain.

The basis on which the retail prices were fixed illustrates a situation which abundantly justified government interference. When retail dealers put up prices, they usually justify it by reference to the increased cost of goods and service. So far as this increase is real, the public cheerfully pays the higher price. No one expects goods which cost more to be sold for less, and no one who thinks will object to paying higher prices for the incidental service, when that service itself costs more. But when prices go up out of all proportion to costs, the public does complain and is justified to protection. This is evidently what had happened in the case of coal. The new price basis allows for all the increase in the cost of coal, for all the gross profits made in each case in 1915, and for 30 per cent of that profit additional for increased expenses of handling and administration. In other words, the coal dealers are to get all their increased costs back, and all the net profit they ever made besides. Which is certainly enough.

The startling thing is that this requirement would constitute a re-requirement. Whatever the retail dealers were collecting over this basis was not profit, but extortion. If there had not been a great deal of this, the regulation would not have been worth the trouble of making. The amount of the reduction is the measure of that part of the high cost of living which was illegitimate and unnecessary.

DEBATING LEAGUE FOR ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

Now the grammar school boys and girls are to have a chance to acquire skill in public speaking.

The debating league for the high schools having proven a big success, the University of California Extension Division is now going to form a "Junior Section" of the Intercollegiate Public Speaking League of California, pupils in the elementary and intermediate schools may now compete for the state championship in debates and in essay-writing contests. Any school which wishes to enter must write before October 27, 1917, to the Bureau of Public Discussion, in care of the University Extension Division, at the University of California. All contestants in the Junior Section must be below the age of 18. Each school is to choose its best speaker and its best essay writer by any method the school may work out. The state will be divided into eighteen divisions, consisting of from one to six counties each. After a series of preliminary trials, a final debating contest will be held at the university. The university will defray the expenses of the speakers participating in this final contest for the state debating championship. The contestants for the state championship in the essay contest may write on any phase of the following subjects: (1) "What Can the American Boy or Girl Do to Help the United States Win the War?" (2) "The American Boy or Girl's Duty to the World." (3) "An Account of Some Personal Experience." (4) "My Favorite Sport."

CHENEY'S CONTRACT COMING UP TONIGHT

Board Will Give Hearing to City Planners; Will Pave Alleys

One of the principal matters of business to come before the city trustees tonight will be action upon the Planning Commission's contract of $1,250 with C. H. Cheney, consultant to the commission for a series of new surveys to dovetail into work already finished. At the last meeting, Trustee Pickford spoke against ratification of the contract on the ground that the commission was costing the city too much money. On suggestion of Trustee Goodfellow, who is a member of the planning board, the matter was put over until tonight's meeting in order to give the planning commission opportunity to be heard. In the meantime Miles O. Humphreys, chairman of the commission, has made a statement that the new contract is not a call for more money, but is for ratification for an expenditure for which money has already been appropriated. The confirmation of Mayor Toomey's appointment of Edward Jones as purchasing agent comes before the board tonight.

The board will also receive bids for the construction of a bridge over Dry Creek on Park boulevard, and the extension of the bridge on Belmont avenue.

Resolution of intention and specifications for paving of the alley in block 57 will come up. The board will receive bids for paving alleys in blocks 107, 357, 331.

The following petitions will be acted upon: Sjaor & Harp, pool hall license, 1044 H street. Walcott & Jackson, transfer saloon to Sheehan and Wilkins. E. Pina, for second-hand license at 1324 Kern street. J. M. Virgin, transfer pool hall license to J. Stuckert. Italian-American club, for liquor license. Mrs. M. Wolf, for second-hand license at 2625 Tulare street.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Recruiting of camouflagers for the national army has been authorized by the War Department, according to a statement made today by Major Mitchell's committee on national defense. The first of these troops will be enlisted here. Their work will be the concealment of military, airplane, store houses and other army structures. While many civilian workers, such as accountants, carpenters, scene builders, masons and decorators are wanted, the majority of the men composing these commands will be unskilled "handy-men."

Nautical Schoolships Deserve to Rank with the Great Institutions Which Educate Our Youth for Occupations on Land
By FRANK S. LAWRENCE
Formerly Secretary of the Pennsylvania Nautical School
(Copyright, 1917, by The National Editorial Service, Inc.)

A recent meeting in New York which endorsed the immediate and wide extension of the nautical training school system, hitherto so misapprehended and neglected as to permit of its retrogression to only two such institutions for the United States, rose to the level of the national emergency in emphasizing not merely the usefulness of permanent and numerous nautical schools, but also the surprising possibilities inhering in them.

Henry Howard, the shipping board's director of the emergency training system that seeks in our current dire straits, to make deck and engine officers of such seafaring men as can qualify, declares "without reservation that nautical schools, planners and conductors for training landmen for officers' responsibilities, are urgently required by the permanent demands of the nation's merchant marine."

We have only two such schools—one at Boston, the other at New York—with many years of effective work behind them; but we have the stars of California and Oregon favorably disposed if not committed to nautical schools; we have Maine, Virginia and Maryland keenly interested. We have pressing need for a score of such institutions, every one of them possessing three lines of the aspect of the training ships assigned to the New York and Massachusetts schools if the American people can hope to officer, above and below decks, the merchant ships in so short a time as a year and a half hence, to do its own transportation overseas, to furnish an adequate trained reserve of men for its navy, and to fulfill the expectations created by our commercial opportunities.

It is beyond question, too, that as compared with many other educational institutions they will have attractions for young Americans which will be in many respects superior, for they will afford reasonable assurance of employment immediately on graduation at rates of wage higher than any that the average college graduate can find.

Nevertheless every consideration of our merchant marine's future, as well as every tradition of its honorable past, urges the assumption of a prestige for American nautical schools in the eyes of the nation, and of the world that shall be more imposing than has been previously conceded to them.

When American clippers swept the seas their masters were known the world over as officers and gentlemen who held themselves on a footing equal to that in any other branch of the world that shall be more imposing than has been previously conceded to them.

A Merciless Judge

One Who Shows No Favor

A merciless judge is Father Time. Before him the weak and the wanting go to the wall. Only the truth can stand. For years the following statement from a Fresno resident has withstood this sternest of all tests.

Mrs. M. E. Henderson, 431 Inca St., Fresno, says: "I suffered from a bad spell with my back and kidneys and could hardly straighten. When I lay down it seemed my back was more painful than ever. It was plain to be seen that my kidneys were in bad condition. Dana's Kidney Pills gave me quick and positive relief." (Statement given January 13, 1915).

On March 27, 1916, Mrs. Henderson said: "The benefit told about in my former endorsement of Dana's Kidney Pills has proven permanent." Price 50c. At all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Dana's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Henderson has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

IN THE LODGE ROOM

L. O. O. F. to Meet

Private Lodge No. 155 will meet in regular session this evening. It is probable that the initiatory degree will be conferred.

A big social on October 29 and the distinct meeting comprising Lotos, Clavis, Mandala, Blandade and the two Fresno lodges, are the two events of interest in the near future.

Many will go to Bakersfield this week to attend the session of the grand encampment.

An entertainment and dance was given by the Druids' Club at Lotos hall Saturday evening, September 29. Towards of 200 members and friends participated and a most enjoyable evening was spent.
Dancing, interspersed with songs and music, made up the program. The singing of the "Marsellaise" by L. A. Tett was worthy of special mention. The proceedings were brought to a close at midnight by the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

Fraternal Brotherhood.
Fresno City lodge No. 232, T. F. B., held an interesting meeting last Tuesday evening. Bills were ordered paid and the death claim of Geneva Webb recommended to the supreme lodge for payment, and the permanent disability claim of Mary E. Jack also was allowed.

Next Tuesday evening a banquet will be held in honor of the Fresno City drill team for their excellent work at the Fresno fair last Wednesday. A small admission will be charged at the door. The committee in charge wishes to thank the members for the services of the twenty-four little girls who took part in the queen's drive at the fair.

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes
—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known
Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one system.
If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts,
inactive bowels, you take one of Dr.
Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition.

How to Keep Well;
Talks on Health

By DR. W. A. EVANS
Professor of Hygiene in Northwestern University and Former Health
Commissioner of Chicago

VACCINATION AND SMALLPOX.

J. C. asks us to go over the subject of vaccination against smallpox. He encloses a newspaper clipping in which a correspondent cites certain alleged objections to such vaccination. He quotes Dr. Page as citing Japan's experience as proving that vaccination is ineffective. He says:

"Japan with every last little Jap vaccinated in 1908, had 18,937 cases of smallpox with 3,387 deaths. No one has ever attempted to refute this statement."

Kitasato, the leading Japanese scientist, completely refuted the statement in the Journal of the American Medical Association. As soon as his attention was drawn to the statement about seven years ago, he knocked it into a cocked hat.

The statement is made that vaccination induces color. This is a wild and woolly statement. For it there is not one particle of proof and there never has been. Those who make the statement claim that there has been an increase in cancer in recent years.
Therefore, vaccination is responsible.
They might with equal logic lay the increase in cancer to automobiles, flying machines, submarines, oranges, spinach, or grapefruit.

On the other hand they might say that the increase in cancer is due to the decrease in elephants, storks, coaches, or crinolines.

The army vaccinated against small-pox. Smallpox is unknown in the army. Every health officer in the world charged with the responsibility of protecting people against smallpox, advocates vaccination. The anti-vaccinationists formerly quoted the health offices of London and England—as an answer to this statement.

Since the views of that health officer were published about two years ago they do not dare quote him. They formerly quoted Hodge of Canada, not as a health officer, but as a publisher.

Since Niagara became the best vaccinated city in America, we do not hear of smallpox at Niagara—nor is Hodge quoted. In proportion as they are unvaccinated they have smallpox.

PAINS OF NO CONSEQUENCE.

L. M. J. writes: "I am a young girl of 22, am 1 foot 11 1/2 inches in height, weigh 102 pounds, and have had no serious illness, barring slight colds for eleven years. I am greatly interested in athletics, particularly basketball and swimming. Recently I have at times experienced a pain in the vicinity of my heart. It does not seem to affect me as my breathing and pulse remain normal and my cheeks do not lose their color. I can walk long distances and do the housework required without undue fatigue.
Do you advise that I see a physician?
I have thought of infection caused by teeth, but must say that I have my teeth looked after twice a year regularly."

REPLY.
Transient pains in the chest are of no consequence.

MAXIMUM ARMY WEIGHT.

J. Y. Z. writes: "Kindly publish the maximum army weight for a man 5 feet 11 inches."

REPLY.

For field artillery, coast artillery, infantry, and engineers the maximum weight allowed is 180 pounds. Examiners show some tendency to relax requirements now.

KIDNEY ATTACKS.

R. P. writes: "I have a little girl 11 years old who had an attack of Bright's disease seven years ago. It was not that it was inflammation of the kidneys. She made a complete recovery. Last year she had a slight attack but made a complete recovery.
This year, at the end of last month,
she had another attack and is making excellent progress under, of course, the care of a doctor. I write to ask you if you would be kind enough to give me full directions as to the solid and liquid nourishment she ought to take, or would you be kind enough to recommend a book (medical) on the subject that a layman could understand. Do you think that the little girl has a good chance to fully throw off the disease?"

REPLY.
The best article of which I know is to be found in the Aug. 11, 1917, number of the Journal of the American Medical Association. I am sure you can understand this article. Send it cent to the Journal of the American Medical Association, 535 North Dearborn street, Chicago, Ill. Von Noor-den's small book on the subject is getting out of date. The repetition of the attacks does not make your child's outlook so good as it might be.

RUPTURE AND OPERATION.

Mrs. C. J. writes: "I will you please tell me what you think of my sister's case. She has a rupture. Is rupture in women ever dangerous?
Would you advise operation? She is 23 years old and not strong. The doctors think she may also have appendicitis. If that is correct would it be advisable to have two operations or have all at one time?"

REPLY.
1. There is some danger of strangulation in rupture. However, decision as to operation is generally based on the inconvenience and incapacity which it causes. Operation for rupture can be done at the same sitting as operation for non-supportive appendicitis.
It is sometimes advisable to combine the two operations.

2. In most cases brain is the more effective. Agar is a dried sea plant.

Plenty of Proof
The charity organization of every city affirms it. The great percentage of cases of indigent poor are due to drunkenness.

Go to the average county poor farm and it will be found populated with victims of drink.

The homes and asylums for orphans all have their stories of drink cursed children.

But if greater proof were needed, go to some of those states where prohibition has been in operation and find the poor farms depopulated, the jails emptied and men supporting their families. In Kansas they have rechristened their county farms and call them prosperity farms, turning them into experiment stations under the direction of the state university.

In the name of God and humanity,
let us rise up and kill this thing.

thers."

When the eyes of all people are opened so that they can understand the teachings of that blessed book, then instead of biting and devouring one another we will reach the state of that Phil islander in recognition that we are brothers, sons of one common father, and he is God.

I am a Christian because I know what Christianity has done for me, and thousands of my kind and that it is to reach the national life and the world life.

If it is for this life only, Christianity is worth all that it costs the individual for it smoothes the rough place, lights the dark places, gives power to overcome the temptations of life and produces a peace and joy in the soul that the world cannot give nor take away.

this memorial of Jesus' humility is performed, as it is commanded by our Lord, feeling of brotherly love comes into the hearts and the worshippers are in a condition to come to the Communion table, and commune with their Lord, now being in harmony with one another. May the grace of God so fill our hearts that we may ever be willing to follow the example of our Lord and Master, remembering his words found in John 14:15, "If ye love me, keep my commandments."

MERGED PLANS FINE
LAND SHOW EXHIBITSierra Company to Build Reservoirs in Mountains of Tuolumne

MERCEDES, Sept. 30.—That Merced county's exhibit at the California Land Show in San Francisco, October 13 to 25, will be a creditable addition to the state's assemblage of displays and will be one highly artistic in execution as well as novel in design, is apparent as the structural work of the display has been begun by J. H. Thullen, assisted by George Towle.

"Merced County's Bit" will be the title of the exhibit, and will be symbolized by the emblem of display of foods of non-perishable character in the construction of a replica of the superdreadnaught "California". Thus, in both material and idea of presentation, the exhibit will have a war significance.

The dreadnaught will be reproduced on a miniature but proportionate scale. The vessel will measure fifteen feet in length and three feet in width, and when installed on a platform of the distance from floor to the topmost point will be eleven feet. The platform will present an arrangement of rise in steps, properly placed to represent ocean waves. The vessel will be developed in the various grains grown in the county. The floor space of 600 square feet will provide ample room for a surrounding display of Merced's leading products including apples and dried fruits, corn, grain, sweet potatoes, raisins and choice grapes in pack, the entire exhibit to be surrounded by a beautiful hedge of red and white Egyptian corn and Milo maize. At the base of the platform will be a banner with the legend, "Merced County's Bit."

Among the novel details of the exhibit will be lighted semaphores and a silk American flag on the attaining tower perpetually fluttering.

The exhibit has been entered in the land show by the Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. J. W. Stubbins, secretary, is accumulating the products for the exhibit while the fundamental construction work is in progress at the hands of Thullen and Towle.

COUNCIL TO DISCUSS
CLAIMS FOR PAVING

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 30.—At the meeting of the city council, which is to be held Monday night, a date will be set at which the officials will give their decision on the merits of the project which has been filed against payment for the paving work which was recently completed here by the Federal Construction company.

The amount of the company's work, which amounts to about $150,000, would be in the aggregate, $12,000.

As the opposing factions appear to be in a deadlock following late developments, the city council will give its decision on the merits of the project which has been filed against payment for the paving work which was recently completed here by the Federal Construction company.

POWER COMPANY TO EXPEND $5,000,000Sierra Company to Build Reservoirs in Mountains of Tuolumne

OAKDALE, Sept. 30.—The Sierra and San Francisco Power Company is preparing to spend over $5,000,000 in the construction of reservoirs in the mountains of Tuolumne county, the enlargement of existing ditches and storage dams, according to the statement made before a joint meeting of the Oakdale and South San Joaquin district boards by H. P. Jackson, general manager of the power company.

These big improvements as outlined by Mr. Jackson consist of the enlargement of the Philadelphia ditch to permit of a greater flow of water for the development of power, the construction of the Tuolumne dam, which will cost $2,250,000 and will take three years' work. This dam will impound 55,000 acre feet of water. After that the Donnell's flat reservoir to impound 30,000 acre feet will be built, the cost of which will be several million dollars. The board agreed to the plan, which will be completed. The program outlined by Mr. Jackson included also the remodeling of the nine mile flume at Sand Bar, just above the Stanislaus plant. This improvement will cost the company a million and a half dollars but will double the capacity of the power plant.

Mr. Jackson said that this work would be hastened by the co-operation of the districts in a long term agreement for the use of the water for irrigation at 11 per acre foot. The board agreed to appoint a committee composed of the engineers, attorneys and President Stenquist and Director Hobart, to represent the districts in negotiations with the power company. Jackson declared that he would not make any offer of more than a dollar per acre foot, and said that the eastern stockholders had objected to the 50 cent rate made as a war emergency measure. According to Mr. Jackson the water sold to the districts would be at a low price, and the company, and he declared that water run through the power plant at this time would be worth at least 11 per acre foot, but was being released to help out the districts.

KERN COUNTY FAIR
OPENS TOMORROWVisitors Crowd Bakers-field; Farm Exhibits and Racing Are Features

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 30.—Kern County's second annual agricultural fair opens here at the association grounds north of the city for five days of exhibition of Kern's bounteous production, combined with the annual racing meet of the Pacific Coast Trotting Horse Breeders' Association, the Foley & Burke carnival, and a closing $2000 automobile race on Sunday.

Most auspicious will be the opening day in which the state encampment of the I. O. O. F., farm centers, West Side oil fields, schools and soldier-soldiers will make it a special point to be present en masse. Already the great influx of visitors has been noted by Bakerfield and by Tuesday night it is predicted that sleeping places will be at a premium.

At the fair grounds both yesterday, today and tomorrow finds the greatest endeavor of exhibitors to place their displays in time for the opening. Hundreds of articles are working night and day to complete the task and when the gates are thrown back Tuesday morning, it is predicted by fair officials that it will mark a more successful showing than anticipated.

An enthusiastic outlook for the fair came yesterday with the transfer of the headquarters from the Kern County Land Company building to the fair grounds. Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Hathaway, in charge of the entries, reported that not only stock, horses, mules and farm exhibits poured into the fair offices in lots of several hundred entries each, but that the women folk of Kern county responded to the call for more displays and the household department will this year be far superior to that of 1916.

Farming Centers.

Representing the farmers of the different centers of the county is at least heat and Rosedale, Wasco, Pond school, Shafter, Arvin, Tehachapi, Edison-Fairfax, Kern Delta center committees were placing their displays yesterday. With their own hands they got out the best of their own produce. The fair advisers and horticultural commissioner's office is preparing a booth in the interest of the anti-squirrel campaign and the Kern County Board of Trade booth will be most attractive. Norman Jura, processor for the Board of Trade, is giving the different agriculturalists in the preparation of their "canned" displays.

Both the industrial and agricultural implement tents were like bee-hives of activity yesterday, while the automobile show, the show of motor cars, and the exhibits of the highest grade of workmanship, and the charge is one-half of what other first-class fairs usually charge. Five dollars per booth. These prices bring bridgework within the reach of all.

The replacement of lost teeth without the use of a plate is one of the most scientific parts of modern dentistry, and although not understood in all its details by the average dentist, it is playing a very important part in modern dentistry.

I have a system by which I replace your lost teeth without a plate if you have two or more teeth in either jaw, and I guarantee that they are there to stay and feel as natural as your own teeth.

Bridge Work

Is a more common means of putting in teeth where one or more teeth have been lost. This work I do in the highest grade of workmanship, and the charge is one-half of what other first-class dentists usually charge. Five dollars per tooth. These prices bring bridgework within the reach of all.

All Work Guaranteed

Your teeth are your best friends, so why abuse them? Decayed teeth are unsightly and unhealthy.

EAGLES COME INTO RUN COLUMN: COFFEE STARS STILL LEAD

The Eagles broke their bad luck yesterday and came home with the bacon in the second of the doubleheader of the city league game at Recreation park.

But after five games of the city league series the Coffee Stars are still in the lead, with the Sperry and Shadlow teams tied for second place. Both games were very loosely played yesterday, but they pleased the crowd and brought in the quarters for the soldier's mess fund.

The first game was a good contest until the fifth inning, when the Coffee Stars made six runs on five hits, a base on balls and a walk, which put the game on ice.

The second game was a feast of hits and runs with the Eagles in the lead. The score follows:

Clubs—Wm. Lost. Pct.
Coffee..... 5 3 1.000
Sperry..... 2 3 400
Shadlow..... 2 3 400

Batteries—Chase, Scott and Ashley; Wright and Holland.

Charm to Old Homesteads — fragrance to Cigars (both lent by time)

Mount Vernon, the home of Washington, owes much of its charm to the softening, mellowing influence of Father Time.

The OWL and other mellow Cigars owe much of their fragrance to the same mellowing influence of time.

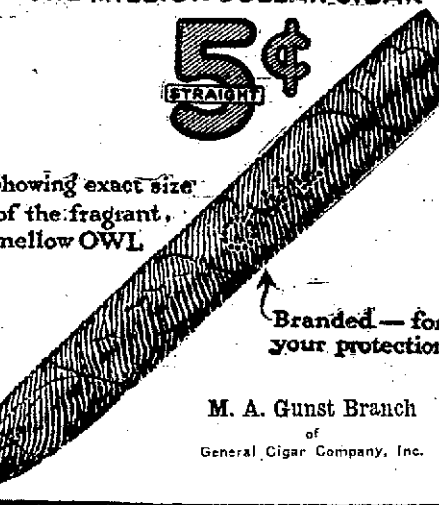

In fact, careful time-curing of selected tobaccos is the big secret behind OWL Cigar fragrance.

And to guarantee every OWL a fragrant OWL requires that a reserve supply of leaf worth $1,000,000 or more be constantly curing. For no leaf must go into the OWL Cigar until OWL curing experts have pronounced it "ready" in OWL mellow fragrance. And it takes Mother Nature and Father Time long months to get OWL leaf to this "ready-point."

Why don't you try an OWL Cigar and see how well it keeps for you the OWL "fragrance-pledge." 5c at the nearest cigar store.

KINEMA (PHOTOPLAYS)

Recently, at the Kinema, the onlooker has been observing the winning combination of big star and a real story—guaranteed success. This is the case today, with Margaret Mayo's "Poly of the Circus," the first Golden Play of the year. Mae Marsh Always Griffith's Favorite. The star needs no introduction—she has always been a master genius—D. W. Griffith's chosen star for his "Wayward Men" and "Intolerance." She is known as the girl of a thousand expressions, who knows how to grip the heart in a thousand ways. Ask Mae Marsh to express a mood and she does it—each mood and each expression in a different, clear, artistic, and in "Poly of the Circus" she again demonstrates her right to be termed the best actress of the shadow stage.

Comedy Thriller and Tragedy in Mae Marsh's Famous Play.

The story, so widely read, is replete with all the emotions. There is plenty of comedy, an unusual number of thrills and accidents in the circus tent, the pathos when the "Poly" is in "Poly," and all that is near and dear to him. Ask for the story itself, it tells of the love of a minister for the orphan child.

D. W. Griffith's "Intolerance" on Wednesday.

For the week and at the Kinema, will be seen Griffith's masterpiece, "Intolerance." Here one has the most sublime of themes—intolerance in the world today—what has dominated the present world—and the results that must inexorably come to the Kaiser.

"Walk This Way"

"Walk This Way," which was presented by the Kinema company at the Plaza on last night, has a peculiar, happy-go-lucky, amusing gait which seems to amuse the tremendous crowd which has packed the popular at fresco playhouse.

Lillian Russell's Beauty Talk

(Copyright, 1917, by Lillian Russell.)

How do you invest your time?

If you have a busy mother you will probably reply that your time is already invested, that you have no surplus, and that the question does not concern you.

But if you would manage your time as you do your money, you might find that there are some avenues of unexpected waste that could be invested to bring in returns in both health and happiness.

With your money you will take hours and days, perhaps, thinking how it should be distributed so that its purchasing power will be greatest, and that there should be a margin for savings, or something left after all of the necessities have been provided for.

Your time is just as vital to your life as your money. It is just as important to you as your money, and giving thought to it is more inspiring than the things of material consequence.

Why not make a list of the occupations in which you invest your time? Sit down and figure out what each minute, each hour, produces on its investment.

You may be astonished to learn that some of the things in which you thought you were investing time were not worth the investment.

One of your time investments ought to get spiritual, artistic and material benefit, and if there is any half hour that is not producing some return that half hour is being foolishly wasted and should be transferred quickly to a better opportunity.

As a busy mother you have to devote most of your time to home-making. You have your religious duties, too, and you want to read a little and take a little and have a little enjoyment.

Perhaps your adventures into socialability led you to cards. There is no actual harm in the card club and you do enjoy an afternoon or evening with congenial women, but after all,

MEXICAN IS SHOT IN AFFRAY AT DEL REY

Alleged Assailant Taken Ten Miles From Scene of Shooting

Medical Report Says Man Has Favorable Chance of Recovery

Shot through the shoulder, chest and hand by Abundio Estoradio, a Mexican, in a camp on the outskirts of Del Rey, yesterday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, Jose Estrada, another Mexican, lies in the County hospital. Medical reports from the hospital into last night announce that he has good chances of recovery. Abundio Estoradio was arrested by Sheriff Horace Thorwaldson later in the day in connection with the shooting. Prisoner was identified as the man who fired the shots when confronted by the wounded man at the County hospital, and by those present when the shooting took place. Estoradio is now in jail.

No reason can be ascertained as the cause of the shooting. The assailant fired two shots and then ran along the irrigating ditch and through orchards and was soon out of sight. Sheriff Thorwaldson was notified and he, accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Ray Johnson, Dave Reiss and Fred Smith, set out for the scene of the shooting.

The sheriff's party were joined by Constable Campbell of Sanger, and after investigation and examination of many witnesses who seemed to wish to screen the assailant, they elicited the information that the escaped Sanger was named Abundio.

Descriptions of Abundio varied and there was an evident intention, said Sheriff Thorwaldson, on the part of his compatriots to shield him. Even the wounded man refused to divulge the name of his assailant, but requested the officers to drop the pursuit and that he would get him later.

A good description of Abundio was given by some children. Leaving in the direction of Fowler, where they were joined by City Marshal Ford, the sheriff had every avenue of escape watched.

Ford discovered a Mexican running down the highway at Fowler, ten miles from the scene of the shooting. When captured the man denied absolutely that he was Abundio, but papers found in his possession seemed to justify the officers in believing that they had the wanted man. In his possession they found a .32 caliber Smith and Wesson revolver.

Sheriff Thorwaldson had him removed to jail and later in the evening took him to Del Rey to have him identified.

OLD SHOES WANTED FOR SOLDIERS ON WAR FRONTS

And More Shoes Wanted for Thousands of Lands of War Devastation

Collection to Be Made Next Saturday at Court-house Park Fountain

Have you any old shoes to spare? If so, there are hundreds, yes thousands of bare feet across the waters that are in need of the shoe that may have been discarded.

And as the winter months come on, this want is to be more imperative and the suffering of the impoverished people of the war-devastated lands is to be more and more intense. So the plea is made, by the Fresno Chapter, Red Cross, for an offering of old shoes—any kind of an old shoe, even if there be but the "upper" left, by which to identify the remains as having once claimed the distinction of being a real shoe.

In the old countries overseas, these old tops have their value, for the expert cobbler knows how to tack on the wooden sole, and so make a very serviceable foot protector.

Committee Authorized.
At the last meeting of the directors of the Fresno Chapter, Red Cross, George Osborn, Arthur Hutchinson and Sig. Levy were named as the old shoe committee of the chapter, with authority to gather up, through the chapter and through the auxiliaries, the old shoe product of the county, this offering to be shipped to Paris.

And in these shipments the word is given that there shall be no charge for the water transportation from New York City, and the matter of overland shipments is being provided for, Saturday Shoe Day.

To the end that there may be a general clean-up, next Saturday, October 6, has been set aside as old shoe day, a day in which every one having an old shoe to spare, shall tie them together and bring them to the fountain at the Court House Park, there to be delivered to Sig. Levy, or some other member of the committee, who will see to it that they are properly stored and shipped.

This is but a movement in harmony with similar undertakings now being worked out in nearly every city in the United States.

FOOD SHORTAGE FOR ALLIES PRESENTS REAL MENACE

Merchants' Association of This City Appealed to by Administration

General Campaign Urged for Arousing Nation to Present Need

From Washington comes the intimation that the food situation in the United States, in prospect and in fact, is far more of a menace than is given out in the general announcements calling for the conservation that is to conserve for the benefit of the allies facing the forces of the central European powers.

H. E. Patterson, as secretary of the Fresno Merchants' Association, is in receipt of a personal appeal from the United States Food Administration, of which Herbert Hoover is director. In this letter the Merchants' Association of Fresno is urged to the action that shall have for its outcome the heartiest co-operation with Mr. Hoover in his efforts to put into the reserve every possible ounce of food that may be provided the Allies of the government in the waging of the overseas war.

Appeal to Merchants.
The letter from the Food Administration authorities follows:
Dear Sir: Mr. Hoover's message to the United States Chamber of Commerce at their convention at Atlantic City emphasized that the winning of the war is largely a problem of who can organize this weapon: "Food, and that the national conservation lies in the equitable distribution of the least amount. In this country we can only hope to obtain this by voluntary self-denial and voluntary reduction of waste."

In view of the threatened world scarcity of food, the vital need of conservation and the serious conviction of this administration that food will win the war, we respectfully request your co-operation and aid.

One of the successful advertising plans of the Food Administration is the use of the postoffices and other Federal buildings in the different cities for displaying thereon attractive bulletin signs bearing messages pertaining to food and the added appeal, DON'T WASTE IT.

Promission from the proper governmental authorities has been granted to this administration for the use of these premises. Various organizations, in many cases the local advertising signs, have donated the signs, located on or adjacent to the postoffices. In addition to this many municipal authorities have granted the right and have been directly successful in furnishing a sign to go on the city hall.

In your city we urge that you lend the influence of your organization to this movement. The advertising section of this administration would be grateful for any information or suggestion as to how you think something definite can be accomplished along these lines.

We trust that you can count upon your co-operation. Faithfully yours,
U. S. FOOD ADMINISTRATION,
Per H. C. Maxwell.

STATE CONFERENCE INSPIRES CITY PLANNERS

Chairman Humphreys Finds Universal Support for Movement

Various Committees to Resume Work at Once on Zone Ordinance

"That the Fresno City Planning Commission followed the right course at this time, in proposing a complete zone ordinance, was the consensus of opinion of the delegates at the Santa Rosa convention of municipalities," said Miles O. Humphreys yesterday on his return to Fresno.

"We found progressive cities of the state were preparing ordinances along similar lines under the new state zoning act. A study of the various city plans presented at the conference showed that zoning was the first necessary foundation for any sensible progress."

"The most significant fact of the conventions was, I believe, the pronounced stand taken by the state's three greatest commissions—the State Planning Commission, the State Commission of Immigration and Housing, and the State Highway Commission—in favor of a well worked out city plan and zoning ordinance for all California cities."

The resolution first passed by the conference on city planning and later unanimously adopted by the California League of Municipalities, asking that the railroad commission hereafter assess all costs for grade separations, subway and union terminal improvements to the railroad companies and that they be allowed to cover these actual costs by equivalent rates, was one of the most important actions ever taken by these bodies. If the commission accepts this suggestion, Fresno will be saved hundreds of thousands of dollars in costs on bond issues, for in the very near future we must face the gradual elimination of all grade crossings on both railroads.

"On the whole the conference was the most important in ideas advanced of any sort held, and very representative from Fresno came back with a sober realization of the work in city planning which must be accomplished."

"Meetings with the various committees of civic organizations appointed to report upon the proposed zone ordinance will be resumed this week. I am glad to say that without exception every committee has agreed that some form of zone ordinance must be passed. Many changes for the better have been made in the proposed boundaries of the districts as first presented in July. The changes are reflecting the demand of public opinion, and we believe that within a few weeks the final draft of the ordinance and final boundaries will be entirely agreed upon by the civic committees. We will then present the ordinance to the council probably about the end of October."

Berkeley Approval
"Attention might be called to the following important letter received from the city attorney of Berkeley, Frank B. Stringham, in regard to the Fresno ordinance."

Stringham's letter follows:
"I was very much pleased with the appearance of the streets and parks in Fresno, and particularly with Berkeley, and I am sure that the city will be through. About a month ago I talked with Mr. Cheney about the Fresno ordinance, and according to my recollection it classifies the use, height and area of buildings, and is based on the New York plan, except that the use of buildings is divided into eight or ten classes instead of three."

"Berkeley has not yet adopted an ordinance limiting the height and area of buildings, and divides the use of buildings into twenty-seven different classes. The Berkeley ordinance is a template an ideal condition and has a high educational value in developing a public opinion which will eventually appreciate the importance of having different portions of the city devoted to various kinds of business and residential purposes. The Berkeley plan is more or less voluntary, and the council does not act unless petitioned by citizens who desire to form a district."

"Personally, I prefer the plan which you have adopted of dividing the entire city at one time and of reducing the number of business and residential classifications. There is no logical reason why a city should not reserve portions of the city for residential purposes and other portions for different kinds of business and manufacturing. It is just as reasonable for a city to do that as it is for a family to divide its residence into rooms for sleeping, eating and recreation."

"The effect of stabilizing values and eventually bringing greater wealth to the city and therefore to its inhabitants."

"In every case of the so-called invasion or intrusion, that is, where the owner of property makes use of his property entirely different from the use made of the surrounding or neighboring property, the owner may temporarily obtain larger returns from the use of his property, but at the same time he takes value from all of the surrounding property largely in excess of the advantage which he may temporarily gain, and in the long run he actually does injury to himself by so doing. Whatever is against the community interest hurts every individual in that community."

"As one passes from one city to another in California, it is generally not difficult to learn by a very casual survey of the city whether or not the residents of that city are public spirited, and if the citizens of any particular city are public spirited and have the welfare of the community at heart, one will generally find that such a city is an attractive one to live in, not only on account of the more healthful conditions which are bound to exist, but also on account of the cleanliness and beauty of its parks and streets and greater recreational facilities."

"All the cities of California are watching such cities as Sacramento and Fresno, which are taking the lead in the matter of city planning, and in the matter of developing better living conditions, and I confidently believe that you are very wisely taking the steps which you contemplate by adopting an ordinance limiting the use, height and area of buildings."

"When I was in Kansas City in May at the National City Planning Conference, many pictures were exhibited on screens showing the many improvements which had been made in the results of active city planning in such cities as Akron, Ohio; Bridgeport, Conn.; Walpole, Mass.; Sacramento, Cal.; Fort Wayne, Ind.; Glenbridge, N. J.; and Kansas City, Mo."

"In the brief space of a letter it is impossible for me to mention all the advantages of active city planning, and to show its importance with relation to the happiness and comfort of the inhabitants of any particular city. As a city increases in population and the people become closer and closer together, the importance of a reasonable regulation of living conditions increases in geometrical proportion. It is better to anticipate the crowded conditions of dense population and not to wait until it is too late and too expensive to solve the problem which could have been easily solved at some time prior by the exercise of a little foresight."

"The districting of a city which is made after a careful survey of an expert, and which is honestly made by a legislative body taking a broadminded and liberal view of present conditions and acting reasonably in the exercise of its functions, can do no ultimate injury to any one in the community."

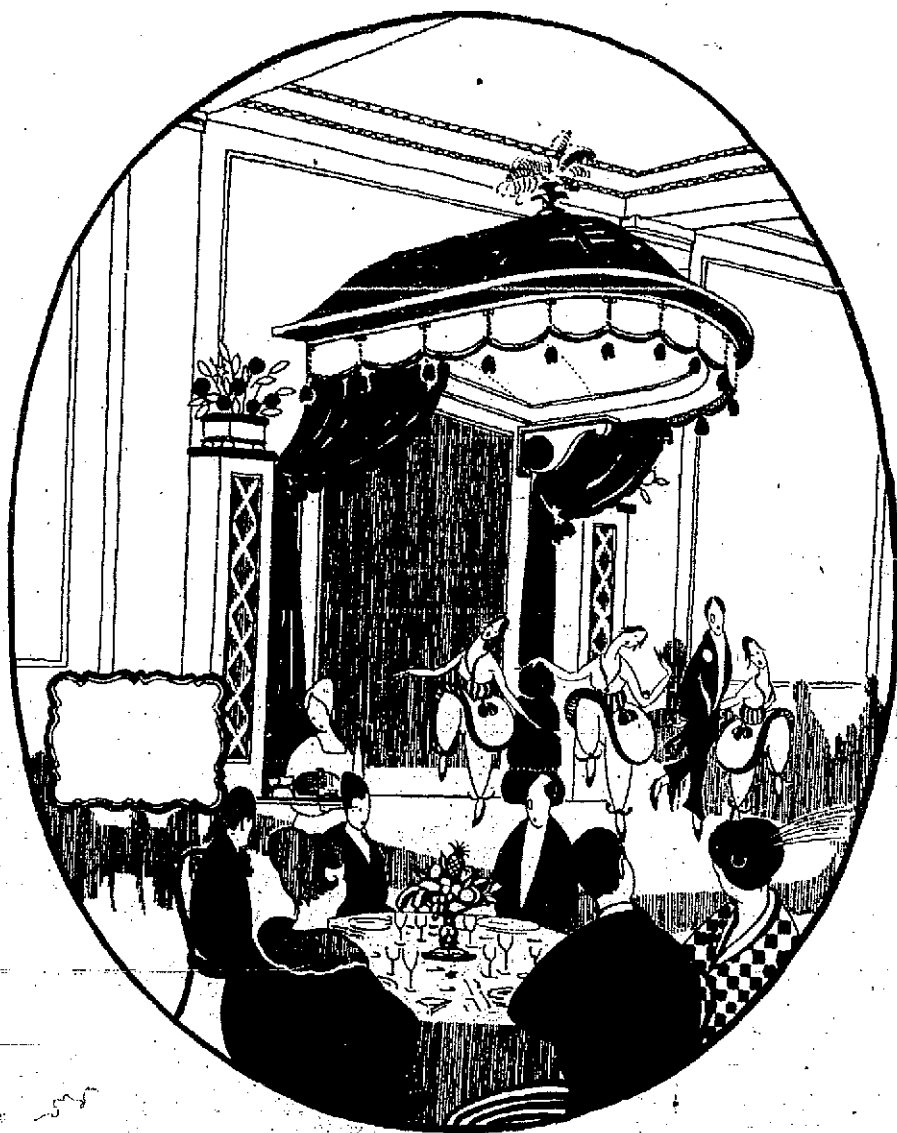

"In Berkeley we have already formed five or six districts and have protected well-defined residential districts from the invasion of garages, laundries and small business, all of which latter were entirely unnecessary and not needed in such districts. On the other hand, we have formed one or two districts for manufacturing plants, from which residences are excluded, so that people can not come in and build residences after the manufacturing plant has been established, and then try to enjoy the operation of the manufacturing plant because it makes a noise or in any way disturbs the occupant of the residence. It is just as important that the business man be protected in his sphere as it is that the owner of a home be protected in his enjoyment of the same. Otherwise, owners of homes and businesses are continually compelled to move to some other place to another in the city, never knowing how long it will be possible to remain in any particular locality all of which moving and changing constitutes great economic loss both to the community and to the individual."

"Yours very truly,
(Signed)
FRANK B. STRINGHAM,
"City Attorney of Berkeley."

Exertainment To Be Augmented

EXTENSIVE preparations are under way for the opening of the fall season's entertainment at Cafe Budo. High-grade vaudeville artists have been secured and a season full of the best in the cabaret line is assured.

To accommodate the large increase in this department of Fresno's leading cafe it has been found necessary to build an enlarged stage and the plans for this work are being prepared by local architects.

The first week of the series will begin tomorrow and the public is cordially invited. The entertainment begins at 6:00 p. m.

The management of Cafe Budo, in making this announcement, wish to emphasize the fact that the programs will be particularly high-grade and that nothing but clean and wholesome attractions will be staged.

You may come to Cafe Budo and feel that it is always free from loudness and vulgarity, which unfortunately is common where the cabaret exists.
